

The Three Trolls & the Bully Goat

By: Eric Clark

Once upon a time
there were three nice trolls and a mean bully goat. The bully goat was an old, ugly goat. He would not let the trolls get across the river.

The smallest troll

tried to go across but the bully goat jumped

out and said,

"Get

out of my river!"

That scared her so she paddled the boat as fast as she could back to her family.

She told the medium troll what happened. He went and got the big troll to help. All three trolls

got in the boat and when they got close to the bully goat

the big troll jumped in the water and hid behind the boat.

Next the bully goat jumped out and said, "Get out of my river or I will turn your boat over!"

Then the big troll jumped out of the water and used a rope to lasso
the bully goat by his horns. They put the bully goat in the boat and paddled

to the other side of the river and left him there.

They went back home and never saw that mean bully goat ever again. They got to play in the river forever and ever.

THE END

2018 KET Young Writers Contest Winning Entry

KET.org/WritersContest